March is National Women's History Month!

During the month of March, we celebrate the contributions women have made to arts, history, culture and society.

The celebration of Women's history first began as a week-long celebration that soon swept the nation. In 1980 President Jimmy Carter issued a proclamation declaring women's history week as the week of March 8th.

Six years later, the National Women's History Project petitioned congress to expand the event to the entire month of March.

As we celebrate the historic contributions of women throughout history, shall we also celebrate the women that make history through their contributions today.

April is National Celebrate Diversity Month!

Diversity (noun): The state of being different.

Throughout the month of April, we celebrate the diversity that makes-up our communities. We celebrate the differences in culture, religion, race, ethnicity and perspectives.

More importantly we celebrate the ways our differences bring us together and form community.

Ways to Celebrate:

Read: Read books that describe different cultures, explain different perspectives and engage with different identities.

Celebrate differences: Try out some of our local businesses. The City of Buffalo has many local shops and eateries that represent a wide variety of cultures throughout the world.

Share: Encourage those around you to celebrate the differences throughout our communities, share your experiences and create new memories.

As we progress through the month of April celebrate your definition of diversity and share it with your friends and family.
